The meeting at the Central Baptist church last night was an historical one for the Twin Cities in that it was the occasion of the first commencement exercises ever held by the Benevolent Hospital, an institution founded by a joint committee of women of the towns. Both auditoriums of this church were thrown into one and all available space was filled. The large attendance evidenced the commanding place the Hospital holds in the interest and affections of the citizenship of the whole community. By ruling of the board of Deacons of the Central Baptist church last night's plate collection, amounting to $28.47, was donated to the Benevolent Hospital fund.

Those who know of the ways of Cupid, and of what a good secret publicity agent he is, declare that some of the seats at the meeting last night were filled by persons who had heard whispering to the effect that the first graduate of the Hospital, Miss Ethel Ott, would appear as the newly made bride of William Freeman Stewart. The rumor proved to be true, according to announcement of Dr. W. P. Wilks, pastor of the Central Baptist church, who had married the happy couple at the Pastorium, on Saturday, the 29th.

The newly married pair came in for many hearty congratulations and good wishes at the close of the exercises.

Special Musical Program
A special musical program was rendered at the opening, one number being a beautiful vocal solo by Mrs. O. M. Roan.

The commencement sermon was preached by Dr. Wilks, and the diploma, the first ever granted by the Benevolent Hospital authorities, was presented to Mrs. Stewart by Mrs. E. C. Payne in a graceful address, in which the speaker took occasion to call attention to the needs and claims of the Benevolent Hospital, not only on citizens of the Twin Cities, but on all residents of Morgan county.

Dr. Wilks' sermon dwelt especially on Christ's ministry to the sick, on the debt that women, especially, owe to Christ's power and influence in raising them from a station similar to slavery, to the place of honor in all civilized nations. The preacher's text was from St. Luke, 8-2, 3. "And certain women, which had been healed of evil spirits and infirmities, Mary, called Magdalene, out of whom went seven devils, and Joanna, the wife of Chuza, Herod's steward, and Susanna and many others, which ministered unto Him of their substance."

Dr. Wilks said no longer was it the privilege of people on the earth to minister to Christ's personal needs; but as he had said that "in as much as ye have done it unto the least of these my brethren ye have done it unto Me", the privilege of aiding the needy now, was just as great and just as much to be sought after, as if we were ministering to Christ's own personal needs.

Mrs. Payne's address, in part, followed: The Benevolent Society Hospital opened August 15, 1915. It was the culmination of years of hope, work and prayers of the women of the Benevolent Society of Albany-Decatur.

From the beginning we have had a training school for nurses, and this is not the first graduation. Miss Mary Harmon and Miss Myrtle Brown came to us after six months training in the Baptist Hospital of Memphis, and after two years here, were sent to Chicago to finish their course at the Illinois Training school for nurses, with which we have an affiliation.

We are very proud tonight to be able to present a diploma to the first graduate completing her course at the Benevolent Society Hospital, Miss Ott.

THOUGHT BURGLAR KIDDED HIM,
DARING ROBBERY IS AVERTED

Former Mayor Dillehay Frustrates Attempt of Bold Thief

A bold robbery was doubtless averted in South Albany Saturday night, owing to a misunderstanding between the "high contracting parties." Former Mayor A. C. Dillehay, who was ordered to halt and throw up his hands, hesitated to do so, he thought some one was "kidding" with him. At 7:15 a masked man concealed at the back entrance of Dillehay Brothers Drug store accosted the former Mayor, with the usual request of high contracting parties for immediate compliance the would be robber evidently became frightened and sought his escape instead of the pocket-wealth of Mr. Dillehay.

The "affray" took place at Dillehay Brothers store on Fourth Avenue, South Albany, at the back entrance near the foot of a flight of steps that lead up to apartments on the second floor of the store. It seems that the robber had concealed himself on these steps. Just as Mr. Dillehay emerged from the back door of his store with the intention of going up the steps to his rooms, he was told to halt and throw up his hands.

Speaking of what followed after that unusual command Mr. Dillehay said to a Daily reporter: "When the fellow shouted to me, I thought some one was kidding, and I said something about the speaker getting out of the way or else I would run over him. After I spoke as I did, the man seemed to give up all idea but escape. But I had seen his gun in the meantime, which was a .38 Smith & Wesson, which looked like about a 57 calibre to me, and I backed toward the store door from which I came. By the time I could recognize his mask, a blue bandanna handkerchief, which had eye holes cut in it, he was passing me on his way to the back alley behind the store. He had passed the store door by the time I could enter and slam it in his face. In a few minutes after the occurrence I had officers Hendrix, Thompson and Benesley on the trails. A thorough search was made of the premises but to no purpose."

It is believed that the robber will be caught soon.

The state-wide appeal for relief of the starving children of Europe opened in all sections of Alabama today and workers in Morgan, and other North Alabama counties, were redoubling their efforts to put this section over the top.

"Morgan County never has lagged in any of the many drives," said Chairman E. C. Payne this morning. "Always Morgan has gone over the top and we must see that she goes over the top in this most worthy cause."

Unlike many similar campaigns, the present one will have the aid of the very youngsters. A Baby's Brigade, an organization of babies under a year pledged to help Herbert Hoover in his appeal for the starving children of Europe, has been formed. Howell Edwards Jr., of Anniston, infant chairman of the brigade writes to European Relief headquarters as follows, the letter being marked "dictated but not read."

"I enjoy saving my pennies for the unfortunate babies. I have had several letters saying that my picture had made them wake up to the call for help. One was from a Converse college girl saying that she was going down town as soon as she could turn over her mite to the European Relief Council. My mother and daddy appreciate the many nice things said about me in the different papers and of course they are saved and pasted in my Baby Book for me to see when I am old enough. I am the only baby in our home and it does make my Daddy and Mother so proud to have me selected as chairman. Hoping that every baby will help us out in this great campaign, I remain very truly yours."

The suffering of the kiddies abroad has touched the heart of a "lifer" in a Birmingham prison—Clarence Reeves.

Some friend sent to this man the sum of ten dollars, and this is what Clarence Reeves said:

"I understand that somebody has sent me ten dollars, and I thank you for bringing it. Ten dollars will buy many things, but—Reeves smiles was a pleasant thing in those grim surroundings, "it will also, I have read, save the life of some kid, won't it?"

He was told that it would; that ten dollars is the price of the life of one European baby.

"Then," said this man who must live always shut away from his fellows "then take this ten dollars where it belongs."

Edward A. Leonard, Port Reading, N. J., requested information regarding industrial, commercial and forming opportunities in Alabama.

Joseph A. Redman, 689 Fourth street, South Boston, Mass., was interested in buying or leasing a farm in Alabama and requested information about crops, soils and prices of land.

C. F. Green, Pataskala, Ohio, was interested in Alabama farm lands and wrote for literature.

John H. Holmes, 907 Otis Building, Chicago, Ill., requested information about the agricultural possibilities of the state.

Clark Rolley, Pleasant Hill, Mo., said he was interested in dairying and other diversified agriculture in central Alabama and requested state literature on the general possibilities.

William J. Shimp, route nine, Hodgesville, W. Va., said he expected to make a change this fall and wanted information about the state's crops, climate and prices of lands in different sections of Alabama.

WILL WED A VISCOUNT

The engagement of Miss Violet Selfridge of Chicago and London, to Viscount de Sibour, a member of an old French family, has been announced in London, where the bride-elect's father, H. Gordon Selfridge, is proprietor of the Selfridge department store. Miss Selfridge met her fiancé on an ocean liner while en route to the United States to visit relatives. When he returned to Europe he applied to Mr. Selfridge for a position in his store and was put to work. It is said the reason for this was that Mr. Selfridge has always insisted that his daughter should marry a worker. Viscount de Sibour was an aviator in the French army during the war.

MISLEADING STORY REGARDING MOB IS SUBJECT OF ATTACK

A misleading story, which appeared in a Nashville newspaper, regarding a "mob" forming following the hearing for several defendants in the King murder case at Athens last week, today brought a request to The Daily for a correction.

The story, which was based on reports, the story stated, from a Nashville official who had been in Athens, was very sensational. The Daily's correspondent at Athens today made the following request of this newspaper:

"Please correct through the columns of your paper the very unjust statements that have appeared in certain newspapers regarding a mob after the King trial in Athens on Friday. The impression must have been given the reporter leaving Athens on the 4 p. m. train by an excitement that was just happening then, the cause being the shooting by a negro at a party on the Southwest corner of the square. The officers ran in that direction, a crowd of people following. As a fact not one bit of feeling has arisen as regarding this case for the people feel satisfied the law will be just."

Local music lovers were looking forward today with much pleasure to the appearance here Wednesday of the Auburn Glee Club, which will sing in the auditorium of the Albany high school.

Additional interest is shown here in the appearance of the club because a local boy is one of the stars of the aggregation, D. C. Adams, Jr., appearing in "The Rusty Hinge Quartette" and in a solo dancing number. The Montgomery Advertiser, speaking of a recent performance there, declares Mr. Adams' number was "one of the distinctive hits of the evening."

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—President Wilson has denied a commutation of sentence for Eugene V. Debs, Socialist leader, the white house leader announced today.

Attorney General Palmer recommended to the President that Debs, who is now serving sentence for violation of the espionage act, be released on February 2. The President's action was swift and terse.

Attorney General Palmer submitted his recommendation for clemency on Saturday night. It went to the President this morning for his consideration.

He wrote across the face of the papers merely the words: "Denied W. W." and ordered it returned to the Department of Justice.

THE BIG OFFER MADE
PRESIDENT WILSON

Considerable interest still centers about the recent offer of a syndicate to give President Wilson $150,000 for his first written article upon his retirement from office March 4. There can be little doubt that the syndicate knew that it could make money on such a trade, as such big concerns are not in business entirely for health or benevolent considerations. The record of the vast money made by publishers on the writings of Presidents Taft and Roosevelt was doubtless in the mind of the men who made Mr. Wilson the $150,000 offer. Taft and Roosevelt doubtless received large pay for their writings, but Mr. Wilson served as President in much more interesting and stirring times than did those men. He was identified with world events greater far in importance than any others in previous modern history. The desire and curiosity to know some of the world secrets that Mr. Wilson could reveal with entire propriety was wide spread enough for his "first" writings to have sold for many times $150,000.

When Mr. Wilson does enter literary work again, it is estimated that his income will mount up well beyond the annual salary he now receives. Some writers say he can easily earn a million dollars a year with his pen, or typewriter, as the case may be. Mr. Wilson possibly did not realize how rapidly prices have advanced since he became President. However, he was doubtless quite right in turning down the exorbitant price offered. Had he received $150,000 for a single article of his own choosing he would have been put down as a profiteer. He would have been accused of using his office as a "pry" to open the money safes of the publishers. Besides, no man is in position to know the value of writing better than Mr. Wilson. He was a literary man long before he entered the political arena. He had sold many manuscripts and knew or at least thought he knew the true value of literary productions. But whatever the money value of his writings, the President is considered to have saved the dignity of his office and that of the country of which he is President. It has been suggested that the big offer made him was in reality a trap set by the many ignoble enemies of the President, who wished to get him to accept the large sum and then hold him up to the ridicule of the entire world. If this was their idea, they might have saved themselves their pains, for Mr. Wilson is both too shrewd and too high-minded to be caught in the traps of low-thinking men.

IN DEFENSE OF THE JEWS

It is probably true that character will at all times withstand the assaults of misrepresentation, but there can be no objection when witnesses to character volunteer to make the vindication from slander more prompt and more perfect. It is with the thought of helping in a worthy cause that one hundred and more prominent men of the country have joined in signing and publishing a protest against the anti-Jewish propaganda that is being spread through the country. The purpose of the propaganda is to show the Jewish citizens as disloyal and as foes to the well-being of the republic. It is noted with considerable astonishment that the leader in the propaganda that seeks to make a cleavage among our people is the same person who financed the shipload of peace crusaders sent out to effect peace in the world in the early days of the great war. On the other hand, the people who are the object of attack made a notable contribution in men and money to the defense of the republic when its rights on the high seas were invaded.

Among the signers of the protest are President Wilson, Secretary of State Colby, Former President Taft, William Jennings Bryan, and a number of bishops and other distinguished clergy. "We protest against this organized campaign of prejudice and hatred," the signers declare, "not only because of its manifest injustice to those against whom it is directed, but also and especially because we are convinced that it is wholly incompatible with loyal and intelligent American citizenship. The loyalty and patriotism of our fellow citizens of the Jewish faith is equal to that of any part of our people and requires no defense at our hands."—Mobile Register.

UTILIZES EMPTY WINE CELLAR

The Waldorf-Astoria Hotel, New York, has decided to convert the wine cellar of the hostelry which is now empty, into a gymnasium.

The vast spaces underneath Astor Court on the 34th street side, two floors below the street level, are being remodeled for that purpose.

The ceiling of the vaults are 22 feet high and the ventilating system is one of the finest, making an excellent hall for the recreation and rejuvenation of tired bodies, says the New York Times.

Shower baths have already been installed and much of the usual apparatus of a gymnasium is in place. It is expected that guests of the hotel will take advantage of the opportunity for exercise thus presented. But the gymnasium has really been designed with the welfare of the hotel workers chiefly in view. L. M. Boomer some time ago organized the people of his hotel into an athletic club known as the Samaciar A. A., and the new establishment is primarily for promoting Samaciar activities.—American Issue.

BUY NOW AND SAVE MONEY;
PRICES WILL BE UP IN SPRING

Buy now and save money. Later the goods will cost you more.

This is the advice and the warning that is being very generally given to the buying public of the United States, and it is being given by those who know what they are talking about.

In the wholesale markets of the East, goods that are being sold for spring delivery are uniformly higher in price than the same class of goods is being offered in the many special sales in progress in retail stores throughout the country. Next spring, it is stated, cotton goods will be 25 per cent higher than the prices now asked at retail. The same is said to be true of ready-to-wear goods for men and women, of shoes and of other lines that now are being sacrificed in special sales in practically every city of the land.

Big daily papers in the East are urging their readers to buy now as a measure of economy. It also would be a patriotic move for normal conditions throughout the nation will return when buying gets to a normal basis, and that will mean national prosperity.

There has been too much holding off by buyers. For a time this was justified by reason of the high prices, but prices are down now on many lines. The bottom has been reached in the prices of many things and, as the price pendulum swings back, it is carrying values upward again. The wise plan for buyers generally is to make purchases now, while values are low.

A number of merchants are making special offerings at exceedingly low prices to dispose of surplus stocks and to bring in ready money. In many of the special sales, goods are being offered for less than the merchants could buy them in open market today.

The opportunity to save money and at the same time help to restore normal business conditions is one that people who have the money to spend should seize quickly. Nothing can be gained by holding off longer, and soon the special sales may end. When that time comes prices may not be so attractive. In fact, they cannot be, for all the goods the merchants now are buying are costing them more than they are charging for them in special sales.

Be wise and buy, is good and timely advice.—Anniston Star.

The Alabama public service commission today received a petition from the Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company for permission to discontinue the free service between Wetumpka and Montgomery. The company established the regular toll rates between the towns last week but on complaint of citizens restored the old service until formal permission could be obtained. For many years Wetumpka has been a popular resort by the payment of $3.50 a month in addition to the local exchange rental at Wetumpka. The company contends that this discriminates against other towns similarly situated.

If the service is discontinued the state will be forced to pay heavily for conversations between the state convict department and the penitentiary at Wetumpka.

A PROCLAMATION

STATE OF ALABAMA
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT.

Montgomery, Alabama.

November 22, 1920.

A PROCLAMATION.

WHEREAS, The Legislature of Alabama, at a Special Session held in the year 1920, proposed a certain amendment to the Constitution of Alabama, which is herein set forth, to be submitted to the qualified electors of the State, at a Special Election ordered by the Legislature to be held on Tuesday, February 8, 1921;

AND, WHEREAS, Notice of such election, together with the proposed amendment, is required by law to be given by proclamation of the Governor;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Thos. E. Kilby, Governor of the State of Alabama, do hereby give notice, direct and proclaim that a Special Election will be held on February 8, 1921, for the vote of the qualified electors of Alabama, in the manner, form and places required by law, upon the following proposed amendment to the Constitution of Alabama, viz:

"The Highway Bond Commission is authorized to issue and sell, with the approval of the Governor, not over five million dollars of the State Bonds heretofore authorized by the Amendment to the Constitution, known as Article XX, to bear such a rate of interest, not exceeding six per centum per annum, payable annually or semi-annually, as the Highway Bond Commission may find necessary to secure the sale thereof."

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Great Seal of the State to be affixed at the Capitol in the City of Montgomery, on this 22nd day of November, One Thousand Nine Hundred and Twenty.

THOS. E. KILBY,
Governor.

WM. F. COBB,
Secretary of State.

200 pounds.

Mr. Moore said the sale of ninety-nine pounds in a sack marked one hundred pounds means a saving to the handler of one per cent. If this had occurred in all sales made last year, Mr. Moore said the loss to Alabama farmers would have been $224,000.

Announcement was made by the public service commission today that the raw material rate cases involving a petition of furnaces in the Birmingham district for an order reducing the freight rates on coal, coke, limestone and iron ore when consigned to furnaces had been set for trial February 7. The cases have been postponed for several months at the request of the petitioners, but the commission has received information that the furnaces and railroads will be prepared for trial next month.

Jim Williams, of Cullman, convicted of perjury and given from two to three years, was granted a parole by Governor Kilby Saturday on the recommendation of the state board of pardons. The trial judge and solicitor favored his release after all other connected with the crime had been released and the defendant in a murder case in which the perjury was committed had been acquitted.

Amusements

All the world loves a lover, and it report be true, there is no artist on the American stage who can compare with that eminent Actor-Manager, Tellegen, in the art of making love.

This he will demonstrate at the Princess Theatre on Tuesday evening when he will present himself (in person) and his excellent company of players, in a magnificent revival of his greatest of all American successes, "Blind Youth", the comedy drama in three acts by Willard Mack and himself, which enjoyed such long and prosperous runs in New York, Boston and Chicago.

Mr. Tellegen is booked for a trans-continental tour this season, and his company includes Lorna Ambler, Juliette Crosby, Helen Grayce, Marcelle Baguer, Kathryn Howard, Douglas S. Bright, George Deneubourg, Schuyler White and Russell Clark, while the production is brand new, an exact-duplicate of the sumptuous settings which characterized the long runs in the above mentioned cities.

Mail orders will be accepted now in the order received, the box office sale of seats opened Friday.

The engagement of the eminent actor-mangaer, Lou Tellegen, who on Tuesday, February 1st will present himself (in person) and his excellent company of co-workers, at the Princess Theatre in an elaborate revival of "Blind Youth" which he wrote in collaboration with the celebrated playwright, Willard Mack, and which enjoyed long runs in New York, Boston and Chicago, is one that will prove a real dramatic event in this season's bookings at the popular play house.

Mr. Tellegen is conceded to be the most perfect master of his art among all the stars of the present day, and his wonderful portrayal of the many characters he has assumed since the advent of his first appearance in this country as the leading man of Mme. Sarah Bernhardt, have stamped him an artist without a peer.

Among the members of his company will be found such well known Metropolitan players as Lorna Ambler, Juliette Crosby, Helen Grayce, Marcelle Baguer, Kathryn Howard, Douglas S. Bright, George Deneubourg, Schuyler White and Russell Clark.

Initial Diploma Is Granted Graduate

of Trustees of the Benevolent Society Hospital, I take great pleasure in commending your conscientious work and faithfulness to duty during your course in our Training School. You have persevered in the face of all many difficulties and we congratulate you on your work. Your profession is one of the noblest, emulating the example of the Great Master who went about doing good, relieving human suffering both of the rich and the poor.

We charge you to keep the highest ideals ever before you, that you may be a credit to your profession and to the institution which you represent. This diploma represents their years of faithful work in caring for the sick.

The Board of Trustees presents this pin. The circle of blue is the symbol of the never ending faithfulness of the true nurse. The cross in the center is typical of the sacrifice of the devoted nurse. May you ever be worthy of wearing it. We wish you success.

I wish to publicly express our appreciation of the kindness and assistance of the doctors of the Twin Cities. They never fail to respond to the calls of the needy and have given us the benefit of their experience to aid our inexperience and have encouraged and supported the hospital in every way.

I am sure you will be disappointed if I failed to speak of Mrs. Gryton, our superintendent. We can not too highly commend her capable management and conscientious direction of the Training School.

We have demonstrated the need of a hospital in Albany-Decatur and vicinity. We have educated the people of the surrounding country to the benefits of hospital care.

In the beginning we were expected to care only for the charity cases in both towns, but they have come from all parts of the county and even beyond.

You must recognize that the Benevolent Society Hospital is a distinct asset to the community and to the county. In fact I believe it is the only institution for the public good in the county—unless it is the poor farm. The work of our hospital is becoming too large to be conducted upon the present basis—dependent upon gifts and pay patients for support.

Some one asked me the other day if the hospital were making money. I replied that, after investigation, I had never heard of a hospital work making money, and never put one that even made expenses. If there is a balance left at the end of the month, the B. S. Hospital sees a thousand places where it should go.

Our people have been most generous in responding to our appeals, and to our various plans for raising money. One only assured income, aside from gifts and paid patients is a monthly donation from two of our churches and several lodgers, amounting to $55 a month. The donors will never realize.

It is customary for hospitals doing

COTTON MARKET SUFFERS A LOSS

LISTS DROP UNDER HEAVY PRESSURE FROM THE COMMISSION HOUSES

(International News Service.)
NEW YORK, Jan. 31.—The cotton market was under moderate pressure from commission houses today and after a steady opening, with prices 2 points lower to 3 points higher, sold down under 20 points under Saturday's close.

charitable work to have appropriations from both city and county. As I said before our hospital has become an asset to the community and the county. For the credit of the Twin cities it should have a monthly appropriation from each. No many weeks ago we were obliged to refuse to take a case from the farther edges of the county for lack of room and lack of funds—the first we had ever refused. It was a hopeless case, but hospital care would have relieved much suffering. It was a case to refuse. There was no provision from the county. We should have an appropriation from the county. If we had had room in this instance, I suppose we would have taken this case anyhow.

We have demonstrated the need, and the Twin Cities and Morgan Co. should really to our support. I am sure they will not fail us, the business men of Albany-Decatur never have, and the men of the L. and N. Shops have always been our friends.

We thank you for your interest and sympathy manifested by this large attendance.

HOW DOCTORS TREAT COLDS AND THE FLU

First Step in Treatment is a Brisk Purgative With Calomel, the Purified and Refined Calomel Tablets That Are Nauseless, Safe and Sure.

Doctors have found by experience that no medicine for colds and influenza can be depended upon for full effectiveness until the liver is made thoroughly active. That is why the first step in the treatment is the new, nausealess calomel tablet called Calotabs, which are free from the sickening and weakening effects of the old style calomel. Doctors also point out the fact that an active liver may go a long way towards preventing influenza and is one of the most important factors in enabling the patient to successfully withstand an attack and ward off pneumonia.

One Calotab on the tongue at bed time, with a swallow of water—that's all. No salts, no nausea nor the slightest interference with your eating, pleasure or work. Next morning your cold has vanished, your liver is active, your system is purified, and you are feeling fine, with a hearty appetite for breakfast. Druggists sell Calotabs only in original sealed packages, price thirty-five cents. Your money will be cheerfully refunded if you do not find them delightful.—(Adv.)

CLASS DINNER

The Women's Bible class of the Westminster Presbyterian church celebrated its eleventh anniversary Saturday with a dinner. Members of the class with the teacher and organizer, Miss Ellen Groenendyk, met at the home of Mrs. E. L. McNutt on Jackson street and repaired to the Palace Cafe where a special table had been arranged for this affair. Cards marked the places for twenty-four, ten of whom are charter members. A frosted angel food cake, presented to the class by Mrs. Z. P. Wallace, carried eleven green candles, and centered the table where an enjoyable course dinner was served. After dinner the class went in a body to the residence of Mrs. C. V. Dupont, and held a business meeting with the president, Mrs. M. L. Hardage in the chair. The class birthday offering of twenty dollars this year goes to the Near East Relief.

Mrs. M. C. Camody, and daughter, Miss Helen, have returned from Gadsden, where they were called by the serious illness of Mrs. Cleo Watson. The many friends of Mrs. Watson in the Twin Cities will be glad to know she is reported as very much better.

Mrs. S. S. Broadus continues quite ill at her home on Lafayette street.

The Silk Stocking club will meet this week with Mrs. John W. Jones as hostess, Wednesday at 2:30 o'clock at the residence of Mrs. T. M. Jones, Sr. on Ferry street.

"Art in the Home," a lecture prepared by Mrs. Walter S. Little of Boston, Mass., illustrated with slides, will be given at Westminster Presbyterian church Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock. Mrs. Little believes that artistic home furnishing is the best kind of economy. The public is invited.

Miss Margaret Harris spent the week end in Tennessee, the guest of her sister, Mrs. Gilbert Evans.

Mrs. John D. Wyker and Mrs. Fred S. Hunt will leave today for Birmingham to hear the Schuman-Heink concert.

Argue but Don't Wrangle. In ordinary life friction is something to be avoided. Argument that deserves the name is too difficult a thing for daily practice, calling as it does for such painstaking care in the expressing exactly of one's ideas to avoid their being misunderstood, for such patience to listen, to wait one's turn, to keep one's temper.

Dependent upon all these things for its very existence, argument simply cannot be entered upon carelessly without degenerating into mere wrangling.

If you have the fatal habit of turning conversation into argument you are nothing more or less than a wrangler.

Simple and Pointed. The captain of the local volunteers was explaining his system of personal canvass with a view of obtaining recruits. "Be brief in your general explanation," he said, "and dwell on the respective merits of classes A, B and C under the volunteer act. Will Corporal Jones now step forward and give us an example of how he would canvass?"

Corporal Jones, stepping forward and saluting, said: "If the order of the classes were reversed, the matter would be greatly simplified. All you would have to do then would be to 'See men,' tell them to 'Be men,' and 'Get their answer say 'A-men.'"

STRONGHOLD OF THE BEAVER

Largest Colony in Existence Making a Last Stand in Fastnesses of Southern Rockies.

Far up in the fastnesses of the southern Rockies, hidden in one of the most inaccessible nooks that remain in this country today, what is probably the largest existing colony of beaver, has established itself for a last stand.

The beaver was once one of the most abundant of our American animals, but the ease with which he was trapped and the value of his fur soon drove him far on the road to extinction. Soon only the most stringent of protective legislation was able to save him, but now he seems to be "coming back" and where he has a favorable location he increases rapidly.

There is no better place in the world to study the interesting habits of this little animal than in that little hidden mountain valley just south of the Colorado line which the Mexicans have christened "Lagunitas" and the Americans call "Beaver Lakes." The valley nestles against the very backbone of the continental divide, 10,000 feet above sea level, and from every side it is approachable only by long and toilsome forest travel, except in winter, when it is not approachable at all. The hollow in the mountains' crest is dotted with irregular rows and miniature ranges of hills, two and three hundred feet high, that make up a most bewildering topography.

In among these hills the beaver have built them a city. The landscape is ideal for the building of their dams, and by throwing barriers of stick and mud from hillside to hillside they have created a dozen big lakes, some of them half a mile long. Along the shores of these lakes are built the beavers' lodges. There are probably a thousand beaver in this community, reigning in undisputed supremacy over their mountain domain. They are shy brutes, but very early in the morning and just at sunset you can often surprise them cutting the quaking aspen on the bank with their chisel teeth or plastering away industriously at one of their elaborate dams.

Elderly People Need This In Medicine Chest

To relieve chronic constipation, always keep a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin handy.

NEARLY all people as they advance in age suffer from chronic constipation. Many, however, are indifferent to the laxative they use, on the theory that "they are all alike." That is a great mistake.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, for example, is a mild, gentle liquid laxative, and it does not lose its effect with repeated use. It so trains the bowel muscles that in time medicines of all kinds can be dispensed with.

A sixty-cent bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin will last many months. The prescription was written thirty years ago by Dr. W. B. Caldwell, a well-known family doctor, who is himself now in his 82nd year and can appreciate what chronic constipation must mean to elderly people; how it brings on headaches, colds, loss of appetite and sleep, heaviness and a general dull feeling.

Every home that has an elderly man or woman should be provided with a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Eight million bottles were bought at drug stores last year. It is a truly reliable remedy.

TRY IT FREE

Send me your name and address and I will send you a free trial bottle of my Syrup Pepsin. Address me Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 513 Washington Street, Monticello, Illinois. Everybody now and then needs a laxative, and it is well to know the best.
